The Scariest Things Greenlight Pitch : A Horror Movie Fantasy Draft

Welcome, aspiring horror movie producers!

The Scariest Things Studios has invited you to create a horror movie for the ages, one that we hope will thrill audiences and make us all filthy rich and famous! We have summoned some of the best actors, actresses, and directors in the industry to bring us a scary movie. That s where you come You will acquire your selections by way of a snake draft, against seven other production teams, selecting your cast and crew one by one in turn. You will be given a movie production budget, so think carefully about your selections!

HOW THE SNAKE DRAFT WORKS

One at a time, production teams will select from the available people and ideas in turn. You will draw a token from a bag to receive where you are in the draft order. If you don t get a great first-round pick, fear not, as the selections will go from 1-8 and then 8-1, so the team that picks last in the first round will get to pick first in the second round. Once a selection has been made, that pick is OFF THE BOARD.

ROUND ONE: All teams pick their PRODUCTION TYPE. This sets the table for what kind of movie this is going to be. Will it be a Big Budget Studio or Shaky Cam Found Footage film?

There will be 13 selection rounds, and you only will have 30 seconds to make a selection. If you fail to make a selection within that period, the Scariest Things will randomly select a bummer for you, and the results won t be pretty. You might end up with Pauly Shore or Rosanne Barr in your movie. (Yikes!) Or perhaps, you might end up with Bad Digital Effects, or an Ugly Movie Poster. (Ouch!)

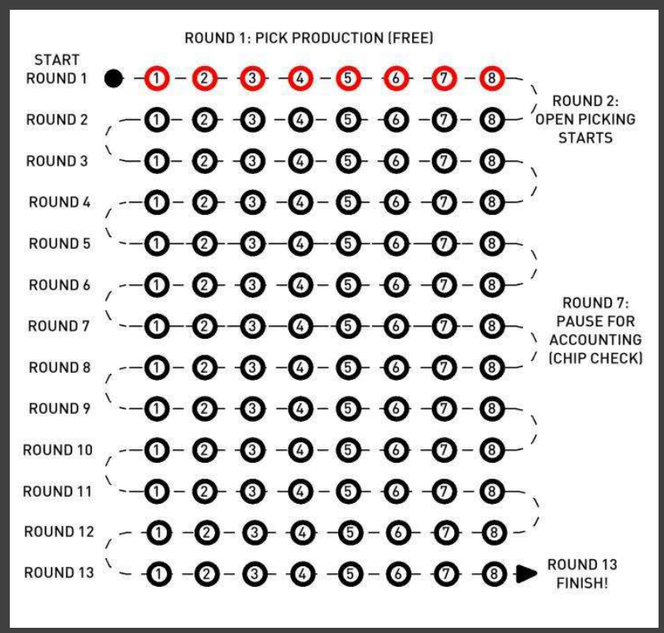
Think ahead while other teams are drafting, and prepare for some contingencies. Have a good backup plan!

YOUR BUDGET

You will note that you have a big ol stack of red and green chips. You will receive a budget of 120 Scariest Bucks. At your production staiton youshould have 12 Red chips and 12 Green chips. (Every selection has a minimum cost of 5 bucks. The maximum cost of a selection, for the prestige selections is 25 bucks. Be careful with your selections, or you may not have enough funds to get the people and themes that you want. You do not have to spend all your Scariest Bucks in the draft, and if you select the SHAKY CAM, SLEAZY GRINDHOUSE or INDIE Production options, you will get a Synergy Criteria consideration for your leftover money. (See winning the game.)

RED CHIPS are round markers. They also are 5 Scariest Bucks. This is to make sure that everybody is tracking correctly in the draft. There will be an accounting break at the end of round seven to make sure that everybody has the correct amount of chips.

GREEN CHIPS are your additioanl funds for any selection that costs more than $5. When you get a funds bonus from a selection, you will receive them as green chips. Note that some Production types give you bonus bucks (Green) that can only be used for something specific (Cast, crew, or tropes) set these aside as a separate stack so that you remember what they are for.



The Scariest Things Greenlight Pitch : A Horror Movie Fantasy Draft

SELECTING YOUR CAST, CREW, and TROPES

Picking your actors and directors will be a lot of fun, some of them are famous, and some of them are fresh newcomers, and we at the Scariest Things are glad that they all made themselves available for your productions. The hiring cost is listed below the image of the cast, crew, and tropes. It ranges from $5 to $25 for the big stars. You will have 13 selections, including your Production (which is free).

As noted earlier, the First Round is for selecting your Production Type, which will suggest certain types of selections for your movie. Your production is the skeleton that you will hang your movie onto. One of the winning criteria is Synergy, so pick directors with cast and tropes that make sense for your production type.

Each productions allow for special bonuses. Among the more notable ones:
SEQUEL and REBOOT allow you to use actual movie titles.
RESHOOTS allow for a do-over... but that becomes a replacement for your Production type. If you need to use the RESHOOTS, declare that when you make your next selection, and make your replacement selection AND your slotted selection. Also, some productions have certain limitations, due to the way your cast may veiw the type of production you want to do.
Refer to the Production Pool list for a full description of all Production Effects.

Keep in mind that you are picking cast and crew as of 2023. So, if you want to get Robert Englund, recognize you are getting the 75 year old Englund, and not the 40-ish Freddy in his prime. There still is value in selecting an Icon like him, but just know he is not exactly in prime shape for an action bloodbath film.

You can use your WILD CARD to add additional cast members, crew specialists, or additional tropes. You cannot use the Wild Card for your director. Announce if you are intending to use your Wild Card selection for any picks.

YOU HAVE A 30 SECOND TIME LIMIT TO PICK!
If your time runs out... The Scariest Things will make a random awkwared bummer selection for you instead. So, be ready to pick! (Time is tight)

YOUR PICKS

There are a total of 13 selections to be made:

PRODUCTION TYPE: This will guide your cast and crew, providing themes and benefits.
DIRECTOR: If you pick an actor/director, they also can be in the cast.
LEAD PROTAGONIST 1: This can be an actor or an actress. STARS must be leads LEAD PROTAGONIST 2: Could be a romantic interest or a buddy.
LEAD ANTAGONIST: This is your villain, a monster, or a foil.
VISUAL ARTIST CREW: Makeup, Costumer, Concept Designers, Production Designer, Visual FX
MUSICAL ARTIST CREW: Contemporary Composers, Sound Editors and FX, Musical Rights
TROPE 1: Back Story
TROPE 2: Environmental Condition (Locations)
TROPE 3: Event or Jump Scare
TROPE 4: Protagonist or Antagonist Condition
WILDCARD 1: Can be a trope, supporting cast, or crew
WILDCARD 2: Can be a trope, supporting cast, or crew

SUGGESTIONS:
You will receive a draft form to track your selections, and there will be cheat sheets with the selections in list form if that makes it easier to track. Use these sheets to write on. (Do not write in the books)

You can select your picks in any order. However, you may want to select your Production type in the earlier rounds so that you know what kind of a cast and crew you are trying to build. Also, if there is a key trope or actor that you absolutely have to have, you can draft them early too. Look at the Production Effects to determine if there are any suggested Synergy considerations to be aware of.

Tropes are used to give you some structure to build your story. You can try and select tropes that blend well together, or you can try something wild. Know that you should consider what you want your story to be when picking your tropes.

Watch your budget. The red chips will tell you how many more picks there are. The green chips will tell you how much exta funding you have at your disposal

The Scariest Things Greenlight Pitch : A Horror Movie Fantasy Draft

AFTER THE DRAFT:

You will get 15 minutes to come up with a rough plot outline, and the name of your movie. Note that your tropes will give you the story structure to generate your plot.
Then, each time will get 3 minutes to do a trailer pitch presentation for their film. You can spoil you own movie if you want to, if you believe it will help sell the movie. Remember, this is a pitch to executives, we want to know what is going to happen, so give us all the juicy bits and the big story twists and showcase moments. No need to hide the plot.

Know that this story will need to make some sense. You have been given a Movie Storyboard sheet to write your cast, crew, and plot onto. You can even draw something if you re daring! Consider if and when certain characters make heroic moves or die horrible deaths. If you spent funds on specialists or music, note how they will be utilized in your movie. But be quick. Three minutes goes fast!

After each team finishes their pitch, the Judges will grade the presentation on:

WINNING THE GREENLIGHT PITCH

The movie pitch will be judged by FOUR Criteria:

1. Originality and creativity of the story. (Score 1-8)
2. How good was the trailer pitch? Was it convincing ? (Score 1-8)
3. Is there good synergy in the draft picks? Does this sound like it would work? (Score 1-8)
4. Does the movie sound really fun and scary? Do I want to see this movie? (Score 1-8)

So, THERE ARE MANY PATHS TO VICTORY! If you did not rack up a lot of bonus points in the draft, you can still do well with a charismatic sales job and a great story. And, most of all, this is all for fun, and to make you feel like a movie maker for at least one day.

In addition to getting the movie contract, the winning team gets a Crypticon TROPHY. You know you always wanted a trophy, right? Plus, there are some other prizes for the winner we ll call it research material for your soon-to-be hit film.

So, how about it? Are you ready to make some scary movies?

AN EXAMPLE OF PLAY

We join the draft midway through round two. All teams have picked their production types, and are now in the open picking phase of th draft.

THE SCARIEST THINGS OK, Team GRUESOME TWOSOME, you are now on the clock. Your first round Production Pick was Sexy Thriller. Do you have a pick? You have got 30 seconds.
GRUESOME TWOSOME: We select Margot Robbie!
THE SCARIEST THINGS: OK, protagonist or antagonist?
GRUESOME TWOSOME: Antagonist
THE SCARIEST THINGS: Interesting... Good pick. That will be 20 Scariest Bucks. One Red, three green.
GRUESOME TWOSOME: Here you go. (brings up their chips)
THE SCARIEST THINGS: Team BLOODBATH AND BEYOND is now on the clock. You have thirty seconds, Bloodbath.
Scariest Things discusses the recent selection of Margot Robbie
BLOODBATH AND BEYOND: "We're Ready!"
THE SCARIEST THINGS: OK, who did you Pick?
BLOODBATH AND BEYOND: John Carpenter!
TEAM SUCK MY VAMPIRE: Aw dammit! That is who we wanted!
THE SCARIEST THINGS: Great pick! For Director or Composer?
BLOODBATH AND BEYOND: Director, please.
THE SCARIEST THINGS: Cool. That will be twenty scariest bucks. OK, Team NOT IN MY BACKYARD, you are now on the clock.
Scariest Things: So, what did you think of Nope? Chatter with VIP (tick... tick... tick...) DING!
THE SCARIEST THINGS: OK, Backyard, who ya got?
NOT IN MY BACKYARD: Um... we pick... Final Girl!
THE SCARIEST THINGS: OK, that is your Protagonist Condition Trope. Fifteen bucks
BACKYARD: Sweet! Here you go, one red, two green.
THE SCARIEST THINGS: Put it on the big board!

And so on, and so forth.

Production Database

Aa Name	Description	Effects	Limitations	Examples	Team Selection
Action Bloodbath	When you want your protagonists to do as much damage as the antagonists, call for the Action Bloodbath! Horror adjacent? Maybe, but lots of fun!	You Get a free sound editor. Get $10 for a Visual FX Artist, Makeup, or Production Designer. For Synergy: Consider using actors known for their action prowess.	Cannot use actors who cost $25. (Yeah, I don't do machine gun scenes anymore)	Aliens, Dog Soldiers, Predator, Renfield, The Toxic Avenger, Blade, The Descent, The Terminator
Big Budget Big Studio	Better sets. Better actors. Better directors. Should be a better movie, right? Be careful though, that big actor's contract may suck up all your resources! You do have the benefit of the full efforts of the backing studio for marketing.	Get $25 extra to use on ANY category. Get one extra trope for the additional running time that your studio can afford to shoot.	Cannot use actors or directors who cost less than $10. (We only want serious actors... sorry kid)	Crimson Peak, Halloween Kills, The Black Phone, The Invisible Man, Godzilla vs. Kong, Scream V, It, The Omen, The Exorcist, Aliens, I am Legend, End of Days, What Lies Beneath
Creature Feature	From gargantuan stomping Kaiju to shadowy creatures in the back of the closet, where would horror be without the creature feature? Spend some money on your specialists, here.	If you select a Special FX team, you can have an FX monster instead of an antagonist. Consider using cast who are known for being in makeup, prosthetics, or motion capture.		Tremors, Kong Skull Island, Godzilla King of the Monsters, Aliens, The Thing, Splinter, The Mist, Dagon, Pumpkinhead, Love and Monsters
Elevated Art House	It's the new Golden Age of Horror! Thanks to films like Get Out, The Babadook, The Witch, and Hereditary, being smart and artistic is now a genre staple. Good writer/directors are a staple here. The visionaries of the genre.	Get $10 for a Visual Artist (Non-FX) Get $5 for a Director	Consider your director wisely. A director noted for schlock would be a poor selection.	The WItch, The Babadook, House of the Devil, Annihilation, A Dark Song, Mandy, The Endless, The Ritual
Festival Darling	This is how you get good word of mouth on your film, particularly for the smaller releases. Festivals are great places to get the buzz to die hard horror fans, and primes the pump for the wide release.	Get A FREE actor who ordinarily costs $5. Synergy Considerations if you place a Character of $10 or less in a lead role. You are giving an actor their big break! Unlocks cast and directors who are Non-English Speakers.	Cannot use actors who cost $25. (Yes... that sounds like a nice little film... BUT...)	The Lodge, Hereditary, Talk to Me, Tigers are not Afraid, Deadstream, Late Night with the Devil, Titane, One Cut of the Dead, The Girl with All the Gifts, It Comes at Night, You Are Not My Mother
Franchise Sequel	Cash in on a popular franchise by doing a sequel! At least you know who SHOULD be the leads in the film.	Can use an actual Existing Movie title franchise, but needs a description, for Example Breaking 2: ELECTRIC BOOGALOO		Friday the 13th, A Nightmare on Elm Street, Puppetmaster, Children of the Corn, The Ring, Child's Play, Aliens
Gateway	Some of the best horror movies are PG-13. They are also well suited to get a bigger audience, and Gateway films are how many are introduced to the genre. Still scary, but rarely gory.	+15 for anything. For Synergy: Consider Child Actors, Action Hero types, and a special effects team.	No Gore effects. Pick your makeup team wisely if you select one. (AAAAAAH! MOMMY! AAAAAAH!)	Gremlins, The Gate, The Monster Squad, The Boy, A Quiet Place, Frankenstein, Dracula, Godzilla, Vampires vs. the Bronx, The Visit, The Others
Horror Comedy	Horror Comedies rely on tapping into deep emotional places, drawing on the forces of laughter and screaming. Two great tastes that go great together. These can be hard to do well, but when done right, horror comedies are pure gold.	+$10 for Cast. For Synergy: Look to use directors and cast who are noted for comedy.		Shaun of the Dead, Zombieland, Tucker and Dale vs. Evil, Renfield, What We do in the Shadows, Army of Darkness
Horror Musical	Take the emotional weight of horror and then heighten the experience by making it into a musical! It can be fun, like Rocky Horror, or grim like Sweeny Todd.	You get a Free extra musical selection. Also, you can pick any songs you want and are not limited to the popular music pool.		Sweeny Todd, Repo: The Genetic Opera, Little Shop of Horror, The Rocky Horror Picture Show, Cannibal! The Musical, Anna and the Apocalypse
Horror Theater - Drama Forward	Smart Horror comes from good drama and quality characters. Treat the movie like a stage production and treat the audience to a good story.	Get $15 for cast, as this will be an acting showcase. For Synergy consider using Thespian actors with a reputation for great dramatic performances.		Brooklyn 45, The Silence of the Lambs, Se7en, Hereditary, The Shining, The Exorcist, The Vigil, The Thing, The Haunting
Indie	If you can't join 'em, beat 'em by doing it on your own! Your way is better, anyhow. The craft services may not be great, but the actors will appreciate the artistic direction and the chance to be high on the call sheet for a change.	Synergy Considerations if you select an up-and-coming director who costs $10 or less. Synergy considerations if you cast a $5 actor in a lead role.	Cannot use Actors who cost $20 or more. (Talk to my agent...wait... I think I have Paramount calling on the other line.)	Jakob's Wife, The Blackcoat's Daughter, The Lighthouse, Come to Daddy, AntiChrist, Satanic Panic, The Black Swan, The House That Jack Built, Climax

International	Some of the greatest films in horror are non-English based International films. Train to Busan (KOR), Audition (JPN), Raw (FRA), Profondo Rosso (ITA), [REC] (ESP), Aterrados (ARG), Calvaire (BEL)... if only people would be more willing to read subtitles, we wouldn't have to deal with subpar English Re-dubs.	+$10 for tropes. Unlocks actors and directors who are non-native English speakers.		Train To Busan · Raw · [REC] · Profondo Rosso · Aterrados · Calvaire · Martyrs · Goodnight Mommy · I Saw the Devil · Audition · Pan's Labyrinth · Tumbbad · High Tension · Ringu · Black Sunday
Meta Horror / 4th Wall Breaking	This is the genre insider's private joke. Winks and nods to the history and tropes of the genre help to bring in veteran fans of horror.	Get one FREE extra trope at the time of selecting Meta Horror. $15 extra for tropes.		The Cabin in the Woods · Scream · Tucker and Dale vs. Evil · Wes Craven's A New Nightmare · Feast · Incident at Loch Ness · Rubber · Behind the Mask: The Rise of Leslie Vernon
Period Costume Horror	Folklore and Myth are the core of horror. The classic Universal movies of the 1930s were mostly Gothic tales from 19th Century Authors. In an era when things were moody, quiet, and shrouded in fog, few productions are as evocative as teh Period Costume Horror Film.	Get $15 extra for Costume and Production Design.		The WItch · The Pit and the Pendulum · Black Death · Crimson Peak · The Wind · Sense and Sensibilities and Zombies · The Woman in Black · Brotherhood of the Wolf · The Cursed
Prequel	Familiarity should do well at the box office! And, you get to develop the backstory to your familiar characters.	Can use an actual Existing Movie title franchise, but needs a description, for Example: Annabelle: Creation	Cannot do a Prequel if there is already one in existence. (IMdB Check)	The Thing (2011) · Ouija: Origins · Pearl · Red Dragon · Prometheus · Puppetmaster III · Amityville II: The Possession · Insidious 3
Reboot	Sometimes a movie needs a refresh, or so that's what you think! It certainly makes the plot easier.	Can use an actual Existing Movie Title, but it will have your name in front of it. For Example: Kenneth Brannagh's Frankenstein		The Thing · The Fly · Cabin Fever · The Evil Dead · Dracula · The Invisible Man · Halloween
Reshoots	Sometimes your director just isn't working out. Sometimes your Lead Actor is a drunk. Sometimes the sound is awful. Time for Reshoots!	You may replace up to TWO selections. THIS Production can be selected AFTER the first round.	The Reshoots become your new defacto production type. (So you're saying he went on an all day coke bender? Is he OK? Call the crew...)	World War Z · Scream · Amityville: The Awakening · Exorcist III · Something Wicked This Way Comes
Retro Throwback	Ah, they don't make horror movies like they use to. Actually, that's not true, they do! Doing a movie that borrows on the look of a '70s or '80s classic brings out all the nostalgia feels. Know this though, it takes more than a Chevy Chevette and feathered hair to bring out the memberberries.	+$10 for Costume and Production Design.		X · It · House of the Devil · The Summer of '84 · The Black Phone · The Conjuring · Grindhouse · The Love Witch · V/H/S
Sexy Thriller	Sometimes the scariest things involve watching people doing things that their libido says "Do it!" while the audience screams "STOP!" A great place to show off the casts raw... charisma. Often Horror adjacent.	+$10 for Cast. For Synergy: Consider the sex appeal of your cast, or at least be prepared to defend their sexiness in your pitch.		Blue Velvet · Fatal Attraction · Knock Knock · Profondo Rosso · The Hunger · Interview with the Vampire · Cat People
Shaky Cam / Found Footage	Got a hand camera? You can be a director! Amazing careers have been built on miniscule budgets thanks to The Blair Witch Project and Paranormal Activity.	For Synergy: Show your frugality by having at least $10 left over after the draft. All of your tropes cost only $5, as you find efficient work-arounds.	Cannot use actors who cost $20 or more. (I won't look good in a shaky cam movie...)	Paranormal Activity · The Blair Witch Project · Creep · Incident at Loch Ness · As Above So Below · Lake Mungo · Cloverfield · What We do in the Shadows
Sleazy Grindhouse	The backbone of horror! Bring on the gore! Bring on the sex! Bring on the motorcycles! To find true horror, many of us went to the Drive-In or rented VHS, the golden age of grindhouse 1970-1985.	Get $15 for a Makeup Effects wizard. Synergy Consideration for low budget cast and crew who have a reputation for schlock and sleaze.	Cannot use actors who cost $20 or more. (I am NOT doing another nude scene!)	I Spit on Your Grave · Werewolves on Wheels · Vampyros Lesbos · 3 on a Meathook · Last House on the Left · The Texas Chainsaw Massacre · Eaten Alive · Maniac · X
